John Glover

On Saturday 28th January John Glover, professional portrait and landscape artist demonstrated for 36 art circle members.

Working in soft pastel, with our vice chairman Clive Brookes as his model he produced a superb likeness which those present felt was a wonderfully sensitive portrait. John proved to be an entertaining speaker as well as explaining his painting process and answering our questions, he related some amusing anecdotes about his painting career. We hope he will return to show us how he works in other media as he is equally adept in oils and watercolour as was shown in the finished work which he brought with him. The portrait of Clive was presented to Clive at our AGM in recognition of the major contribution he makes to the Circle.

Why not make use of the NNAC website?

The information is updated regularly so if you can't find your last newsletter it's there on the site, along with information about the life group, social gatherings and exhibitions. In addition to this, members have the chance to promote their art and exhibitions on the website. We have a section for member's exhibitions. Just e mail nnartcircle@yahoo.co.uk with details of the dates and venue and it will be added to the list (Member exhibitions can be found under Activities-Rules). Likewise you can have your artist profile on the site together with a link to your website and up to 5 images of work that has been accepted for NNAC exhibitions. Have a look in the gallery to get ideas from the profiles already published.
