If all goes to plan you should receive this newsletter before this event - if you do not, apologies !! The Council looks forward to seeing you. There will be light refreshments, a quiz, a chance to bring a work in progress to get comments, display sketchbooks, sell any surplus materials (not too many!!), find out more about the Life Class for 2017, the social evenings, demonstrations, workshops, talks, trips etc.etc....

JOHN SHAVE

Demonstration Saturday 22nd October

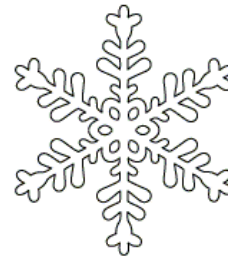

Once again an enthusiastic audience of members and visitors attended John's demonstration of oil painting at URCH. Working on an extremely wide but narrow canvas he chose to demonstrate the 'wipe out' technique which was a new idea to many members. This involves a quick application of appropriate colour with plenty of painting medium to cover the canvas, which allows time to draw and wipe out the required image before the paint dries. John showed how a fairly simple image can make a stunning painting in a reasonably short amount of time. After a tea break he then began a smaller piece of work showing how simple marks are sometimes all that is needed to convey subjects. He also answered questions and as one member put it, we had 'more of a masterclass than a demonstration' which was thoroughly appreciated.

Please be aware all our demonstrations are open to non members at a very minimal cost of £3 - Bring someone with you !

Sue Willmer

Dinner Evening

Whilst the company and speaker were greatly enjoyed, the food disappointed at this venue. We hope to arrange a meal in 2017 - we will be looking for an alternative venue. Thanks all those who joined us. We hope it has not put anyone off !!!

Critique Session

Saturday 24th September

This session was led by Clive and proved to be an influential discussion regarding the Circle's selection process. Many thanks go out to those who attended and contributed. These sessions are very informal but very informative, well worth attending. Richard's thesis on conceptual art was surreal !!!

Geoff Kitchen

Brancaster Staithe Exhibition

Despite dreadful weather our exhibition at Brancaster Staithe was well attended and attracted a great deal of praise. Although sales were less than hoped for we managed to make a small profit and are encouraged by the reaction from visitors to exhibit in the same location next year. The council feels that it is important to include more of Norfolk in our activities in keeping with the name of the art circle. Next year there will be assistance in the delivery and collection of members work so we hope that there will be lots of support for this venture.
