

'Mixed media, waterbased techniques' an inspiring one day workshop.

Enjoy discovering a new skill this autumn in a small and friendly group in the creative setting of 'Designer Makers 21' in Diss. Suitable for beginners or more experienced artists.

In this workshop we will explore ways of freeing up the way that line and mark making are used in painting as well as experimenting with resists and varied materials to create work that is fluid, free and individual.

Tuition is by guided exercises and free experiment to explore your own creativity and approach.

You will be able to complete paintings of your own using the techniques we practise.

Please bring along with you some drawings, photographs or personal object or objects that you might like to work from.

Friday 29th September 2017
