

An Introduction to the Architecture of the Isle of Man

Patricia A Tutt

UPDATE 1, NOVEMBER 2013

Putting together a weighty tome such as this is a lengthy and fraught exercise and I could have taken another year to add further details and seek greater consensus. There were originally over 700 pages in my draft and many images, some buildings and some sections of text had to be culled. In the building types section, many buildings are illustrated by a single image when originally there were several, plus all their captions. Even with all this cutting, we were still pushed for space at the back end (bibliography, references, index, etc) so these were printed in very small type and it would be putting it mildly to say that the index was not 'fully formed.' This update rectifies some of this, greatly expanding the index, and providing some extras images that didn't make it into the book .

Once you start giving me feedback, there will be further updates responding to your comments, with corrections and further information, as they become available. If you wish to be on the mailing list for these updates, please contact me by email at patricia.tutt@manx.net or through my website – www.patriciatutt.com – thank you.

An outtake from the book:

Dölberg House
9 Athol Street, Douglas
RB 198/2002
The former Isle of Man Times Building was acquired by the publisher in 1872 and substantially rebuilt in 1879-1880, when the basement was excavated for the machine room and the upper floors were turned into offices and spaces for rooms for typesetting, bookbinding, and lithography. This striking elevation, in a mellow brick with sandstone dressings, a bow front and a rather French roof, appears to date from that time.

CORRECTIONS

Mostly 'typos'

63 Caption: Government Offices - Building Design Partnership (not British Design Partnership). I thought I corrected that one!
73 Unité d'Habitation (accent missing in text).

89 Howarth Tomkins Ltd should be Haworth Tomkins Ltd. With 'a' before 'o' - correct on p153.

141 Onchan Parish Hall should be more correctly known as Onchan Village Hall.

175 spelling in bulleted column – Wolf's Brewery should be Woolf's Brewery (as in left-hand column).

181 Under James Cowle – St Thomas's Chapel, King William's College (not St Nicholas).

181 New Regal Cinema – 1935, not 1835!

216 Third last line on page – should be St Peter, not St Paul.

240 Caption for Church View House should start: 'Above right...'

257 The top image is of the courtyard in the Spectrum Apartments.

265 Closy-y-Chiam should be Close-y-Chiam.

317 The Lady Isabella – capitalise the 'c' in Casement.

337 House of Manannan – one misspelling. This spelling (two 'n's in the middle) is correct.
