Popular artist Hashim Akib was the demonstrator for our June meeting attended by forty one members and visitors. Working in his usual medium of acrylic he painted a lively street scene for us. Hashim uses the paint with very little medium most of the time and applies it without mixing colours first on the palette, but he will pick up several colours next to each other for a single brush stroke on the canvas. This produces some really interesting effects especially where he is applying the darkest tones and the depth of colour he achieves with this method allows real sparkle to appear in the later stages. He was very keen to encourage us to draw well and not to consider the use of tracing from photographs the practice of which he strongly disapproves. Like many artists he is seeking to develop his painting and in his case is looking for a more abstract result. We had an altogether interesting and informative afternoon.
