Sharon Hurst Demonstration Saturday 27th April 2019

Sharon Hurst is a very popular artist and workshop leader based in the South West. She will be familiar to any member of the SAA for, amongst other things, her romantic (and ever so slightly, temperature-raising) portraits of fantasy characters (men and women)! Much influenced by album covers of the 1970s, the fiction of JRR Tolkien and the work of pre-Raphaelite painters such as Burne Jones and Millais, her work echoes the current popularity of the genre as seen in Game of Thrones, Harry Potter and other fictional worlds. However, the demonstration she gave of her watercolour skills was an object lesson in how to explain and demonstrate art techniques and will have been of value to anyone using the medium – regardless of subject matter. Sharon set out her methods and techniques in a wonderfully clear manner – using humour, historical facts, colour theory and much other asides.

Her personality shone through. In particular, the detailed demonstration of her methods for building up multiple glazes to add convincing depth to skin tones will have been of great value. She even convinced this committed oil painter to look out his watercolours again!

Examples of her work, and several video clips demonstrating techniques, can be seen at www.sharonhurst.co.uk/tutorials/

Art Circle visit to Munning's Museum

22 members travelled to the museum at Dedham to take advantage of the opportunity to see the exhibition of war paintings by Sir Alfred Munnings, a former member of the art circle. It is a memorable collection of his work during the first world war and well worth visiting. During the afternoon easels and sketch books emerged and members of the public were encouraged to view our work and discuss technique etc as well as painting alongside NNAC members. With fine weather, good company and great hospitality from the staff at the museum it was a very enjoyable day.

Graham Webber Demonstration Saturday 25th May 2019

35 members were sometimes mesmerised by Graham Webber who gave us an excellent demonstration of a large oil painting of some boats at Pin Mill, using a sketch he had done en plain air.

He used a limited palette to keep everything in harmony and produced a lovely painting. He very generously shared with us how he moves from one area of his canvas to another and why. Graham's website is well worth a view.
