

A Little R_nR

Well this is my 13th issue and consider yourself lucky I'm not superstitious. In this issue I share with you my experience at the Rauschenberg Residency in Captiva, Florida. Robert Rauschenberg's former residence has become a foundation since his death and his property serves as an artist's residency. I was fortunate to be one of the artists for Residency #34, the Arts Administration Residency. For the first time the Rauschenberg Foundation created an opportunity for art administrators who work for organizations that are members of the Alliance of Artists Communities to spend 2 weeks at the Rauschenberg Residency investigating their own art practices. These images were taken during my wonderful and enlightening moments at the residency.

As always enjoy!
