

Flinders Ranges Photography Work- shop Tour

Flinders Ranges Photography Workshop Tour

I am excited to announce that the first Flinders Ranges Photography Workshop Tour is open.

The first Tour kicks off in October 2019. I will only be taking 4 participants this trip but don't worry, I have more trips planned following this one (see below for dates)

On this Tour, we will be visiting a numbers of amazing sights starting with day one, exploring the sights of Broken Hill and Silverton, where the movie Mad Max was filmed. Mundi Mundi Plains (pictured above), old ruins & more. On day two, we make our way to the Flinders Ranges, Photographing along the way, as we detour through Burra, where the famous Burra Hut resides, pictured on the Midnight Oil record cover, "Diesel & Dust", Photographed by the pioneer of panoramic photography, Ken Duncan. Day three, we spend the day exploring the many amazing sights that surround the Flinders Ranges, from sunrise to sunset. Wilpena Pond, Arkaroola Rock, Old Wilpena Station, Razorback Lookout and many more places. On day four we make our way back to Broken Hill where the Tour concludes.

Included in the Tour:

- Total one on one photography tuition from me,
- 3 nights Accommodation (Broken Hill x 1, Flinders Ranges x 2),
- 4x4 air conditioned transportation throughout the Tour, and
- all meals (breakfast x 3, lunch x 2, dinner x 3)

The total cost of this amazing adventure is $1995 (a deposit of $500 is required initially to secure your spot, with the balance paid 30 days before the date of the tour, either by monthly installments or in full) If you are a subscribing member of Harry Karavias Photography, you'll benefit from a 10% discount.

Following payment of the deposit, complete details and the full itinerary of the Tour will be sent to you.

To book a spot on this amazing adventure, go to my website www.harrykaravias.com or drop me an email at harrykphotography@gmail.com and I'll forward payment form.

Further proposed Flinders Ranges Photography Workshop Tour dates:
March 2020, July 2020 (the dates are tba)
